

No4. Fish Translocation Policy

The translocation and introduction of fish outside the natural range of distribution of particular genetic groups should be prevented unless approved by an independent, representative body of fisheries scientist and conservation professionals established to advise the NSW Director of Fisheries.